EMBA Katalyst is the result of strategic cooperation initiated by two highly regarded and experienced business schools – CEU Business School in Budapest and the Warsaw University of Technology Business School in Warsaw. It is the first truly international EMBA programme in Central and Eastern Europe.

Prof. Witold Orłowski (WUT BS), Prof. Mel Horwitch (CEU BS)
Creators of the EMBA Katalyst Programme

The world belongs to those who get up in the morning, look at the context in which they are developing their activities, and if they do not like it they fight to change it. To challenge today's businesses and economy we need to cultivate the entrepreneurial spirit. At School we believe that entrepreneurship is behaviour that consists of crafting opportunities regardless of the resources. It means that internal and external entrepreneurs are the real engine for growth and innovation: Think Big, Start Smart, Scale Fast. We know how to execute that in a business leader's day-to-day decision-making process.

In my opinion, the most valuable outcome of my participation in the EMBA Katalyst programme is the international network. Thanks to School's strategic cooperation with CEU Business School and Baltic Management Institute I could participate in numerous exchange courses in Warsaw, Budapest and Vilnius. I also had the possibility to attend special optional modules in New York, India or Shanghai. The mix of international professors and classmates allowed me to gain a different perspective of the business world, which will undoubtedly help me to succeed in today's global business arena.

The EMBA covered the gaps and linked my different skills together and now I see them from a different perspective. It has helped me to broaden my leadership skills and believe in myself in ways I didn't know that existed. As a result I have a new approach in my current role. During the course of my EMBA 2013–2015 I have met many interesting professors and students who inspired me and who are now long lasting business contacts for me.

EMBA 2013–15

I'm a scientist by trade and I came to Warsaw to study for an MBA to further my career options. I very much enjoyed the atmosphere at the school. The teaching by the lecturers and professors was excellent. But the biggest asset of this program turned out to be my fellow classmates, who had a lot of practical knowledge in many different aspects.

I enjoyed the ensuing discussions during class and during lunch. While theoretical knowledge can be found outside of business schools, learning from all the experience around me was an asset, which I would not have had without my fellow classmates.
